	Grade	Gr. 7-12 Math Teachers

Learn about ways in which you can use multimedia with your students in the mathematics classroom. We will look at sample projects together including exemplars of student work and give you some concrete projects you can do with your students. We will also talk briefly about some reasons why the use of multimedia is increasingly important in the mathematics classroom.

David Wees currently teaches mathematics in a private IB school in Vancouver, British Columbia. He has taught mathematics in Brooklyn, NY and London, England. David has completed his Masters degree in Educational Technology. He is an avid user of technology in the teaching and learning of mathematics.
